

Old Tech Wastes Time. Smart Firms Don't.

You've invested in premium platforms—DealCloud, Excel, PitchBook—but if your analysts are bouncing between systems just to pull comps for an IC memo, you're bleeding time. And time is deals.

Six Ways Your Tech Stack Is Killing Deals

Analysts Stuck on Grunt Work

Instead of hunting new deals or digging into diligence, they're toggling tabs and copy-pasting data. It's killing their output.

Data Scattered Everywhere

Pipeline targets, portfolio updates, diligence notes—trapped in different systems. When you need it fast (NDA to exclusivity), good luck.

Data Room Mess

Hours wasted downloading docs, renaming files, uploading to internal systems. What should take minutes turns into a full afternoon.

CIMs Take Forever

Every new deal means manually typing teaser and CIM data into your CRM and models. Errors. Delays. Frustration.

Security Holes

CIMs, management presentations, transaction docs flying through unsecured email and drives. One slip and you're exposed.

Deals Fall Through

No single pipeline view means missed follow-ups, lost co-invests, and warm leads going cold to faster sponsors.

You Deserve Better

You built a killer firm. Hired sharp people. Invested in premium tech. The tools aren't broken—they're just not talking to each other.

No one's got time to glue this stuff together properly. Meanwhile, the funds that figure it out first? They're signing platforms quicker, nailing IOI-to-PSA in record time, and owning relationships with the best intermediaries.

Time to join them.

Here's Exactly How You Fix It

Connect your deal systems, automate the busywork, and streamline everything from first outreach to signed term sheet—on your terms.

01

Assess

Map the entire deal process—from origination to exit—to uncover where time and efficiency are lost across systems, workflows, and teams.

02

Align

Integrate CRMs, data rooms, cap tables, and portfolio tools—automating CIMs, IC memos, diligence tracking, VDR downloads, and post-close reporting.

03

Amplify

With real-time dashboards for pipeline, velocity, and portfolio health, the team gains speed, visibility, and a competitive edge—every step of the way.

What Winning Looks Like

When your tech actually works together, deals flow smoother. Your team gets faster. Data gets clear. And yeah, you win more.

More Deals, Same Headcount

Automation kills the manual crap—comps, reporting, data entry. Analysts produce way more without burning out or adding staff.

Lightning Deal Velocity

Spot add-ons early. Push teasers to IOI in days, not weeks. Close before competing bids even show up.

Locked Down & Compliant

CIMs, presentations, transaction data—enterprise security keeps it all safe and LP reporting compliant.

Real Returns

Your stack finally pays off: shorter diligence, higher closes, better monitoring. Not just another expense.

Beat the Competition

While others fight their tools, you're signing term sheets, owning intermediary relationships, and landing proprietary flow.

Happy Team

Analysts do what they signed up for: source, model, diligence. Not chase emails or manage software chaos.

But If You Wait...

Your competitors won't. They'll slam through NDA-to-exclusivity. They'll grab bolt-ons you miss. They'll be the sponsor intermediaries actually want to send deals to.

Your team? Still frustrated as hell. Top associates jump to better-run shops. Partners make calls with half-baked comps and stale pipeline views.

- ❑ Every quarter you delay = deals lost, bolt-ons missed, and faster funds eating your lunch.

Why Us?

We've spent years making PE and M&A tech actually work. We're not general IT consultants. We live and breathe DealCloud, Affinity, PitchBook, VDRs, and how deals really flow from teaser to close.

We Know PE Cold

Exclusively private equity and M&A tech. We get your platforms and workflows inside out—from origination to exit.

Quick Wins

Most firms see real traction in 2-4 weeks. We start with automated diligence and pipeline dashboards, then build from there.

Fort Knox Security

Every integration hits institutional standards. Your CIMs, portfolio data, transactions—protected, always.
